THE SENATOR FITS HIS RECORD AGAINST THOSE OF HIS FOES.

WAS ONCE ROOSEVELT ALLY

Says Robins is a "Single Taxer" and Tells What That Term Means.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27.—In an interview given out here today Hon. Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican candidate for United States senator, replied to the speeches made in the state last Thursday and Friday by Colonel Roosevelt in support of the Robins candidacy, as follows:

"I have no quarrel with Mr. Roosevelt. However, he has come some hundreds of miles to attack me by name and attempt to injure my candidacy. The following statement is for the impartial consideration of the voters of Illinois who are my constituents and in whose hands rests my election.

"Mr. Roosevelt's appeal for the election of Raymond Robins must seem odd to the average voter. His information is ancient history. What he asks has been done by the people of Illinois long ago. He is fighting in the past. His back is turned toward the rising sun in things done and doing.

Roosevelt's Mission Destructive.

"He is not a candidate himself and offers nothing new or useful for those who are. His faithful friends in former years now face his arrival on a mission of destruction. He is attempting to deliver them, not to himself, but to a new and unknown candidate, who, at the recent primary showed but a ridiculous fraction of the voters of this state and a still more ridiculous fraction of Mr. Roosevelt's vote of 1912.

"The Illinois legislature has enacted more law to promote social justice than Robins has ever read. The element in Illinois politics responsible for such remedial legislation has not been in sympathy with those whom Roosevelt attacks. At the time I was struggling with the direct primary laws, civil service, factory inspection, coal mining acts, child labor laws and other acts of social justice, Mr. Roosevelt was allied in this state with the element of the Republican party then opposed to me. Some time has elapsed since this happened and many people have forgotten it.

"For several years I had to maintain myself against those whom President Roosevelt appointed to office in this state. I was defeated many times by his Illinois friends. I remained a Republican in defeat. My efforts for betterment were exerted as a member of the Republican party. I stand inside the Republican house to clean it from the inside.

DESIRABILITY OF NEW PARKS IN DIXON SUBJECT FOR GOOD SERMON

The editor of the Telegraph is in receipt of a copy of a sermon delivered Sunday evening at the Baptist church in Dixon by the pastor, Rev. E. O. Bradshaw. The subject of his talk was "How to Vote on the Park Question." His advice is as follows:

"I am glad to say a few words tonight in favor of the new city parks that are being contemplated for Dixon. The men and women will vote on the question October 6th. It will be a day in which we will be building for the future if the question is properly decided.

"A hundred years ago this whole region was one vast park of hill and dale and spreading trees and over-arching sky. One matchless piece of majestic scenery. One mighty park planned and planned by the builder of the universe. Today streets, houses, factories and stores cover many broad acres of that landscape. God's glorious out-of-doors has most all been used up with these things, to say nothing of the wire piles and junk heaps and garbage that cover most of the vacant spaces that are left in our midst.

"I am not sorry that a city has been built. I rather rejoice in the

GAS KILLED LEE MAN IN ROCHELLE

WAS IN ROOM AT HOTEL DE LOSS AND WAS FOUND DEAD.

VICTIM WAS AN AGED MAN

Little Is Known Of Facts Surrounding His Death—Relatives May Sue Hotel.

Rochelle, Ill., Sept. 28.—The mysterious death of Henry Kittleson of Lee, Ill., Thursday night in a room at the DeLoss hotel here is creating much interest and may lead to court proceedings.

The deceased was 76 years of age and he was found dead in bed Friday morning. Death had resulted from gas which was escaping from a jet when the door was broken in at 9:30 o'clock. At the coroner's inquest the verdict was that death was due to gas poisoning. They were unable to decide whether the case was deliberate suicide or accidental. It was discovered that the gas jet was broken and it is possible that Mr. Kittleson had done this in attempting to turn it on or off. He was found in the bed with his clothes on. A son stated that his father had this way of doing when he was traveling. It is stated that the son may bring suit against Hotel DeLoss because of the broken jet.

ARREST MAN WANTED FOR WIFE DESERTION

CHRIS NELSON WAS APPREHENDED HERE SATURDAY EVENING.

Chris Nelson, a former blacksmith of this city, was arrested here late on Saturday evening by Officer John Winters on a warrant issued by Magistrate Kent in June, charging Nelson with wife abandonment. It is charged that when Nelson left Dixon in the early summer he left his family in destitute circumstances and that since that time he has not contributed to their support; as a result of which neglect it is said that several of the children have been under the care of the state, while the wife has with difficulty maintained a home. Since the issue of the warrant Nelson has been traced through many states, but always managed to elude arrest until he came back to Dixon on Saturday night. He will be arraigned for hearing before Police Magistrate Kent tomorrow morning.

HOMER BY KEENAN HELPS DIXON BEAT STERLING SUNDAY

BRUNSWICKS TAKE FOURTH THE GAME OF SERIES BY A 5 TO 1 SCORE.

TRACEY STOLE HOME SAFELY

But Visitors Howled So Piteously Vaile Refused to Count the Run.

It was in the sixth inning of Sunday's titanic struggle between the Dixon and Sterling baseball teams that several hundred wild-eyed and hungry fans, who jammed into Lincoln park, were given one of those r al thrills which furnishes conversation for the bugs during the weeks to come.

For six innings the two teams had battled to a draw, neither aggregation scoring. During that time the Sterling boys had been pecking away at Carp Huber's shoots, getting a hit now and then, but never enough to get anyone around the circuit; and in the meantime Mr. Wise, who was pitching for Sterling, acted the part—nary a hit had Dixon gotten and but a couple of Vaile's men had reached first base.

A Homer With One On.

Then came the sixth. Mr. Stratton started it by waiting for four bad ones. Devine forced him at second but was safe at first and then Charles Keenan got one of the loveliest hits it has ever been the pleasure (?) of Mr. Wise to wise up to. Charles leaned his full weight against one on the outside. Right on the proboscis he

PRAISES MILLER'S ADVERTISEMENTS

THE INDICATOR GIVES NOTICE TO AD OF LOCAL PIANO DEALERS.

The Indicator, a trade journal devoted to the piano business, in a current issue praises an advertisement carried by Theodore J. Miller & Sons in a recent issue of The Telegraph. The Indicator says: "Too many ads lack a real reason for buying a particular article. This is particularly true of piano ads. This ad of Theo. J. Miller & Sons of Dixon, Ill., gives a few specific reasons why the reliable piano should be purchased, and also speaks generally and serves to awaken the prospect to the fact that all pianos are not alike and tells him some of the cardinal points to be considered when purchasing a piano. Dealers can profit by a scrutiny of this ad as it has many good points besides the one mentioned."

IMPROVING TRACK AT COUNTY FAIR GROUND

SIX INCHES OF BLACK SOIL IS BEING PLACED ALL OVER THE RACE COURSE.

Although the track at the Lee county fair grounds in Amboy is recognized as one of the fastest half-mile tracks in the state the officials of the association are not content, and last week extensive work was started on the track, the work being done under the direction of Vice President Simon McGee. Six inches of rich black soil is being placed over the track and this will be rolled and worked until it gives a hard, smooth surface.

COUNCIL HELD SHORT SESSION

CARRANZA MAY WITHDRAW AND AVOID BLOODSHED

THE BELIEF PREVAILS HE WILL YIELD TO VILLA'S REQUEST.

NATERA JOINS FORMER BANDIT

Deserts to Pancho Leaving the Way Open For 200 Miles For An Attack.

(Associated Press)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—The outcome of conferences between Generals Carranza and Villa is awaited with interest. The opinion prevailing in the Latin-American colony is that Carranza will withdraw to avert further bloodshed.

Villa has requested Carranza to resign as chief of the Constitutionalists in favor of Calderon.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 28.—General Francisco Villa is willing to cease fighting if Fernando Iglesias Calderon is made provisional president of Mexico and Venustiano Carranza steps down and out.

Replying to an appeal from constitutionalist officers at Mexico City to him for peace, Villa made the declaration. Calderon was Mexican ambassador to France under Madero.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Developments are coming fast in Mexico, and they all point to the dwindling power and early overthrow of Carranza. Word was received at the state department that General Natera, the commander of the constitutionalist forces of the central division with headquarters at Zacatecas, has notified Villa that he will support him in the present break. This information was regarded by Washington officials as very important. It means that Villa's army now has the way open for an advance without a single battle as far south as Zacatecas, which is within 300 miles of Mexico City itself.

Will Try to Appease Villa.

With the news of Natera's desertion of Carranza, also came the information that Carranza will attempt to appease Villa through action to be taken at the conference of the constitutionalists to be held in Mexico City on Oct. 1. This is the convention that Villa has declined to attend, but word was received in Washington tonight that the convention would be held and that Carranza will retire as first chief and will not be a candidate for provisional president. Three men are under consideration. Two of these are Iglesias Calderon and Louis Cabrera, the latter having represented Carranza in Washington. All three of these men under consideration are civilians. It has been Villa's complaint that Carranza was seeking to establish a military government in Mexico with himself—Carranza—as the head.

LOCAL AUTHORITIES PICKED UP A FOURTEEN YEAR OLD ROCHELLE BOY.

The sheriff's force Saturday picked up a fourteen year old lad south of the city, who had run away from his home in Rochelle several days ago, and who had escaped a brother who had gone to Indiana and was returning with him to Rochelle. The boy, whose name is Cross, had run away to the Hoosier state, had been apprehended and was being returned to Rochelle by an elder brother when, as the passenger train was leaving West Chicago Saturday morning he jumped from the moving cars and again escaped. He caught a freight train and got off at the cut-off south of Dixon and it was while making his way to this city that his actions aroused the suspicions of residents in the country south of Dixon and the sheriff's office was notified. His brother came to Dixon Sunday evening and returned with the lad, promising before he left not to take his eye off of him once on the way to Rochelle.

Uncle Sam's postal department took a complete invoice of property on hand at noon Saturday, for at that hour every mail man and mail clerk was required to count sacks, etc., in his custody, while the clerks on the trains did the same. This manner of taking an invoice was much easier than the old method of each office keeping count of the business handled in a single day.

BATTLE TO SAVE PETRAS BEGAN AT GENEVA THIS MORN

DEFENSE COMMENCED ITS CASE IN KANE COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT TODAY.

JURY HAD SHORT VACATION

Enjoyed Automobile Rides on Saturday and Sunday Afternoons.

Geneva, Sept. 28.—When the Kane county circuit court resumed its sittings this morning the attorneys for Tony Petras commenced their battle to free their client of the charge of murdering Miss Theresa Hollander on the night of Feb. 16, 1914, the jury having been given a two days' vacation. Automobile rides were enjoyed Saturday and Sunday by the twelve men who will decide Petras' guilt or innocence.

More Threats Told.

Last Friday afternoon, in concluding its case, the state introduced several witnesses who told of alleged threats by Petras.

Merritt E. Snyder, janitor of the East high school of Aurora, was called by the state to the witness stand. At the former trial Snyder was a witness for the defense and when he took the stand Attorney Gunsul for Petras objected on the ground that his name was not on the list of witnesses submitted by the state at the time the second trial started. Judge Carnes overruled the objection and an exception was taken.

Snyder said that Petras and he stood talking on the steps of the high

New Rule Is Health Measure.

"The new rule is made as a health measure," explained L. Wilbur Messer, general secretary of the city Y. M. C. A., "rather than from a moral standpoint. We have discovered that it is not hygienic for the young men to sleep in the same room where they smoke. That is what has been going on."

RUSS TROOPS ARE IN HUNGARY

Battle at Cracow, If Successful, Will Doubtless Finish Galician Campaign.

(Associated Press)

London, Sept. 28.—The hour for the battle which will determine whether or not the Russians will make their proposed invasion of Germany, with Berlin as the objective point, appears to be drawing near.

Rivals Western Battles.

Both official and unofficial advices indicate that the struggle in Russian Poland is rivaling in desperation and possibly in numbers, the battles of Marne and Aisne.

Moving Toward Posen.

The main body of the Russians is moving toward the Posen frontier, and another army is supposed to be attempting to protect the larger force by working southward.

COMING BATTLE DECISIVE.

The rush of Germans who drove the Russian invaders from East Prussia, now seeks to halt the westward movement, while at the same time the Russian army in Galicia is pushing its successes against the Austrians and is moving westward with the expectation of meeting the combined German and Austrian forces at Cracow in a battle; which if successful, will complete their campaign in Galicia.

RUSSIANS IN HUNGARY

The Germans are reported in strong force from Kullisz to Cracow and are said to be well entrenched; while the Russians are reported to have crossed the Carpathians and to have entered Hungary.

MOVE SLOWLY IN ORIENT.

The Japanese-British attack on Kiaochow has moved slowly. A battle has been fought on the outskirts of Tsing-Tau, in which Tokio claims a victory, but apparently this battle was a small affair. The Germans say they fell back to their first line of defenses.

SOME FIGHTS IN BELGIUM.

Occasional fighting continues in Belgium. The censorship has been further tightened at the capitals of all the belligerents.

PRUSSIAN ADVANCE GUARD CUT TO PIECES

Bordeaux, Sept. 28.—According to dispatches from the front the Prussian advance guard has been cut to pieces during the last three days; that virtually all of the original officers of the guard have been killed or wounded and two battalions have been annihilated.

RELATIVE CALM ALONG BATTLE FRONT.

Paris, Sept. 28.—An official statement issued today says that there is relative calm along a portion of the battle front, but that at certain points, notably between the river Aisne and Argonne the enemy has delivered violent attacks which have been repulsed.

LOSSES EXCEED ALL OTHER BATTLES.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The losses on both sides during the last few days of the Battle of the Aisne are said to exceed all other engagements of the war.

HAS FUNDS TO CARRY WAR FOR YEAR.

BOSTON NOW HAS SAFE LEAD IN RACE

STALLINGS' MEN NOW HAVE A PRACTICAL CINCH ON NA-TIONAL PENNANT.

ATHLETICS SAY 'ISCH GABIBBLE

Boston Americans Lost About Their Last Chance During the Past Week.

New York, Sept. 27.—Boston worked into a safe lead for the National League pennant during the past week and nothing but a baseball miracle can beat the Braves out of the flag. Sweeping through the six day period with a record of eight victories and only one defeat, Stallings' men established a margin of eight and a half games over the tobogganing New Yorks, who were swamped by the Chicago and St. Louis teams at the Polo grounds, dropping five straight games before they finally managed to pull out a victory. The Braves have eleven more games to play and need only to win three more to clinch the championship, should the Giants win all of their remaining eleven games.

A further drop is not impossible for McGraw's men, who are being pushed hard by St. Louis, two games in the rear. Chicago also has an excellent chance to pass the drooping champions if the Polo Grounders do not improve their play.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia are now fighting it out for fifth place, with the Superbas coming strong, their record of eleven straight victories, completed yesterday, having pulled them up rapidly. Pittsburgh seems anchored in seventh place, with Cincinnati hopelessly last.

American League.

In the American League the Boston lost about their last chance for the flag by dropping a double header to St. Louis yesterday. One game of their double bill in Chicago also went by the boards today, and the Philadelphias are within short sight of establishing their right to the 1914 championship of the league to a mathematical certainty. Detroit and Washington are the two bidders for third place while Chicago, New York and St. Louis are struggling for the modest honor of topping the lower division. Of the second division clubs only the Clevelanders are definitely settled in position, the cellar berth having been conceded them for some weeks past.

Within the coming week, in all probability, the result in both the major leagues will be finally established and definite arrangements for the world's series, to start on Oct. 9, may be begun.

HOMER BY KEENAN HELPS DIXON BEAT STERLING SUNDAY

soaked that Goldsmith cork center, and it volplaned most becomingly over the right field wall. As a result of which Mr. Keenan and his teammates were so happy that their joy became contagious and spread to the fans.

Stole Home.

Of course that homer was the real sensation of the struggle, but it was not the only one, for before the game was over—by the way, we almost forgot to state that Dixon won by a 5 to 1 score—several more hot climaxes were interpolated. Frinstance, there was the time when Tracey stole home and hooked around Lawler Conlon to safety. Of course Bob Stratton, who was up at bat, could not be expected to know which way Conlon wanted to go to get Killian's star first sacker; and because Conlon bumped into Stratton a couple of times the Sterling boys yelled "interference" and to show that he fully appreciates the ethics of hospitality Mr. Vaile kindly offered not to count the run—otherwise the score would have been Dixon, 6; Sterling, 1.

Then there was another real pleasing bit of action when with one down and the bases full in the eighth Mr. Wise hit a long one to Devine. Mr. Devine caught the ball all right and Beien, who had been watching the catch from third, thought he saw a chance to score. But he forgot that Devine could throw and that Stratton could catch the ball, as a result of which he—meaning Mr. Beien—was greatly surprised when he arrived at the plate to find Stratton waiting for him with the ball held up in full sight of the assembled populace.

The series is now tied up, each team having won two games—but it is reported that there is considerable doubt whether Sterling wants to continue. The score:

10 CENT "CASCARETS" STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

TONIGHT! CLEAN YOUR BOWELS AND END HEADACHES, COLDS, SOUR STOMACH.

Get a 10-cent box now.
Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

SCOTS HIGHLANDERS IN ACTION

The Scots Highlanders have been among the best troops Great Britain has sent to France. This photograph shows a part of a regiment of them driving Germans before them in a charge in the operations north of Paris. They did their share in the effort to break the turning movement of the Germans who were trying to cover the left flank of the allied armies. They are also among the hardest troops sent to Europe.

NEW PARKS SUBJECT FOR GOOD SERMON

community. A park is a benevolent affair. It ministers to health, happiness and thrift. It fosters the spirit of community patriotism and makes for culture and true refinement. It is a place where all classes meet and mingle and feel at home.

"We are all proud of the rich heritage bequeathed to us by nature and nature's God. We are constantly charmed by the trees, the hills and the moving waters. The free air that zephyr-like crosses field after field of waving grain breathes hourly a new and vital life into the soul of the city. Let us supplement these glories of nature that are all about our city by artificial touches here and there within the city limits in remembrance of the days of Father Dixon and his Indian friends. A reminder of these simple but significant days when the people lived close to the heart of nature. Instinctively our hearts yearn for nature and for the soil. I know of no better opportunity to satisfy that soul longing and to minister to the perpetual youth and vigor of the city than to save College campus for a park, and to convert the Wire Pile Park into a flower garden.

"This we all, both men and women, have an opportunity to do by ballot October 6, 1914. Save the College campus. Condemn the wire pile. Build for the future as those who have gone before us have built for us. Dixon is no hamlet, no mean village; it is an important landmark in Northern Illinois. It is filled to capacity with people who have chosen this spot as their home. It will ever be the abiding place for thousands, and the halting place for thousands more. Let us build for the future. Lay the foundations deep. Make the plans all-inclusive and universal. The minor cost of these parks should not even enter into consideration. It is only a song as compared with the priceless value to be received.

"The spirit with which we use the ballot on October 6, should be the spirit with which we commend every other good thing and the spirit with which we condemn the bad. Righteousness exalteth a city, sin curseth it. What a city does today determines what it will be tomorrow. What will Dixon be fifty years hence? Pray God that the way of progress may be paved, and the battles of the future may be fought by the use we make of the ballot box when that sacred privilege is offered us."

INCLUDE THE "WIRE PILE."

Editor Telegraph: In your paper Friday you published a communication signed "Convert, South Side" on the subject of parks and the two separate propositions which are to be voted upon by the men and women of Dixon on Tuesday, October 6, the "College Campus Park" and the "Wire Pile Park" questions.

"Convert" in his concluding paragraph says: "Voters, do as I did. Go see the beautiful campus and you will be convinced of the advisability of making a public park out of it while such can yet be done."

His idea is alright as far as it goes but in order to coincide exactly with my views please permit me to offer a further suggestion:

Mr. and Mrs. Voter: Go see the wire pile before you vote, or if you chance to pass it immediately after a rain smell it, and you will be convinced as I was and vote "YES" on the second question of the ballot.

FAMILY THEATRE.

The Renfax Musical Pictures will be offered at the Family theatre this evening as an added attraction. This invention is the result of years of experiments by W. E. Tabor, an inventive genius, and marks a new era in the realm of motion photography. The first presentation was made in New York and the films are now being exhibited in that city with great success at a score of theatres.

This style of entertainment is a distinct novelty and seems to have caught the public fancy. The pictures sing and dance, and the action is at all times suited to the word. The synchronization of sound and action is perfect and moving picture fans will see big musical numbers and vaudeville acts performed in a manner that is charmingly realistic.

The New York Herald says: "At the Alhambra theatre they gave an exhibition of something new in theatricals, the Renfax Musical Motion Pictures, the invention of Mr. W. E. Tabor."

"By an ingenious device it is arranged so that there can be no action of the lips without a corresponding vocal sound from a so-called singing machine. This effect, the producer explains, is gained by the use of compressed air passing through cotton-throated tubes, which gives unusual power to the voice, allowing it to be heard distinctly in any part of the theatre. Several musical numbers were produced in this way yesterday. Eventually, it is said, entire musical comedy productions can be reproduced very inexpensively."

The other pictures are:
The Father's Reformation,
The Apple,
The Countess, featuring Frances Luckman.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

The Princess theatre will show a two reel feature entitled "Mildred's Doll," a Domino release, with an excellent cast and an exceptionally interesting story. "The Trail of the Lovelorn" in two reels, will complete the four reel bill. This is a Thanhouser drama featuring Harry Berhan and Mildred Heller. This program is one that will please all picture fans.

OPERA HOUSE.

On the program tonight is "The Trey O' Hearts," the fifth installment Judith, Allan, Rose and Baracus have some very thrilling experiences on an island infested by river thieves. Rose and Baracus are tied on the rocks by Judith and her men and left to drown by incoming tide but are rescued by Allan. The scenery is beautiful and their experiences exciting.

"A Ranch Romance" is one of the interesting Nestor dramas of western life that all enjoy.

"This is the Life," another of those comical Powers comedies with the hero in disguise, full of laughable situations and without a dull moment.

Tomorrow "On Enemy's Spy" is a three reel Bison drama and "A Beach Romance," a Sterling comedy.

PRINCESS THEATRE—CHICAGO

Of special interest to those who frequent the Chicago theatres is the engagement of "Today," the much discussed drama of New York life by George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer. This play from the pen of Mr. Broadhurst, our most successful native playwright, achieved the record run of any dramatic offering shown on the New York stage last season, running from one end of the season to the other at the 48th street theatre.

"Today" is all that its name implies, and offers a true and in consequence somewhat startling exposition of a certain phase of New York life as it is lived today.
Taking for their theme the modern woman's fondness for clothes; the feeling that she must have them at any cost that she may keep her place in the social procession, and her desire always to equal if not outdo her neighbor, the authors have written a four act drama of intense cumulative interest and thrilling climax. The last of these, which occurs just two minutes before the fall of the final curtain, is said to have created no end of discussion during the play's run in New York.

GARRICK THEATRE—CHICAGO

"Plays may come and plays may go, but Peg goes on forever."

This seems to be literally the truth as far as "Peg O' My Heart" is concerned, for with new plays coming in and old plays going out this delightful comedy of youth, love and laughter, which has already taxed the seating capacity of the Chicago Garrick to its utmost for thirteen solid weeks, continues its uninterrupted run and appears to be more popular than ever before.

The week just closed has proved to be the biggest matter of round box-office figures since the engagement began and the advance demand for the seats is even greater than at any previous stage of the run.

"Peg's" tremendous popularity has made it necessary for the management to announce that the extra popular price Thursday matinee will be continued throughout the balance of the run, in addition to the regular popular price matinee on Wednesday and the matinee on Saturday.

Some idea of the uncommon success of the appearance of this charming little Irish-American heroine on the Chicago stage may be gained from the fact that the receipts of the first 13 weeks of the play at the Garrick theatre, Chicago, are far in excess of the first 13 weeks of the engagement at the Cort theatre, New York, a fact that is in itself concrete evidence of the splendid work of the cast and production that the producer, Oliver Morosco, has supplied to Chicago theatre goers.

"Peg" is now rapidly nearing the celebration of her 150th birthday on the Chicago stage.

The Number of the slain.

Few persons in Smoke Ridge had ever seen an automobile, so when one of those "red devils" stopped for a few minutes in the isolated village the curious inhabitants gazed at the snorting demon with a mixture of fear and awe. The owner, who had entered the store to make a purchase, heard one rustic remark: "I'll bet it is a mankiller."

"Of course it is," assured the other, "look at that number on the back of the car. That shows how many persons it's run over. That's according to law. Now, if that feller was to run over anybody here in Smoke Ridge it would be our duty to telegraph that number—1284—to the next town ahead."

"And what would they do?" asked the auditors.
"Why, the police would stop him and change his number to 1285."—Kansas City Times.

If you are going to have a public sale this fall have the Telegraph print your sale bills.

After the regular business meeting a program was given under the supervision of the special program committee, with Madam Kent as chairman. The roll was called and several letters from absent members were read. Madam Kent favored the company with several beautiful vocal selections. Mrs. Eli Marton delighted her hearers with several excellent readings and graciously responded to an encore. Miss Ella Kentner read a very interesting paper concerning the early history of the Rebekah lodge in this city and was followed by Dr. C. A. Robbins who gave a few interesting remarks on the lodge work.

After the meeting and program the company was invited to the dining room and there were served with sandwiches, pickles, coffee, ice cream, peaches and cake. One hundred members and guests were seated at the table at one time and the scene was a very effective one.

RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS
for the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True, they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes. Its fame has now spread from shore to shore, and thousands of American women now well and strong claim they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

They took with them eatables and at late hour enjoyed a bountiful scramble supper. The merry crowd played many games and had a very delightful evening and returned to this city in the wee small hours of the morning.

It's a wise bunch of freshmen that belong to the south side this year, and they showed their wisdom that evening, for when about thirty of the upper classmen followed them to Nelson for the purpose of getting in on the "rats" they were given such a cool reception by the younger members that they didn't remain very long.

GERMAN COLONY SURRENDERS TO BRITISH
London, Sept. 28.—Disla, the seat of government of the German colonies in equatorial Africa, has surrendered to the British.

TROOPS AT POLA TO REPEL SEA ATTACK
Rome, Sept. 28.—A dispatch received here today says that 300,000 troops have assembled at Pola, an Austrian naval station, where it is reported preparations are being made against attack from the sea.

A German aeroplane flew over Paris, dropping two bombs. One of them killed an old man and wounded a girl. The other bomb did no damage.

London, Sept. 28.—Twelve cities were attacked from the air by the Germans. Their aerial war craft bombarded Paris, Antwerp, Ghent and numerous small towns in Belgium. German activity in this respect was widespread and of the utmost boldness.

Four persons were killed, two in Paris, one in Ghent and one in Dinz. Several were injured, but the damage to fortifications and public works was comparatively small. The objects of German attacks from the air appeared to be the Eiffel tower, the Antwerp fortifications and ammunition depots in France and Belgium. A hospital in Belgium was damaged and patients and nurses endangered.

A dispatch from Ostend says that a Zeppelin passed over Ghent, dropping numerous bombs. One man was killed and a hospital was damaged. At Thiel the gas factory was badly damaged but no lives were reported to be lost. Other towns in Belgium which were attacked were Alost, Dinz, Mielebeke and Rollegem. Five bombs were dropped in Dinz, where a man was killed. The Zeppelin disappeared toward the French frontier.

Antwerp escaped serious injury because the Germans were compelled to fly very high in order to keep out of range of the forts' special guns. Obviously the Germans sought to injure the forts and to continue their methods of terrorization.

They have been increasingly active in air raids for several days. There is a report from Antwerp that the Germans are assembling a fleet of Zeppelins, possibly for a raid against English cities.

Herrick Has Close Call.
Paris, Sept. 28.—Within ten minutes after the American ambassador walked past the home of the prince of Monaco, in Paris, a bomb from a German aeroplane exploded near the sidewalk, killing an old man and a little girl. The spot is within 200 yards of the American embassy.

The bombardment by German aircraft, the most vicious since the war began, was delivered by Taube planes which were obscured by the heavy fog.

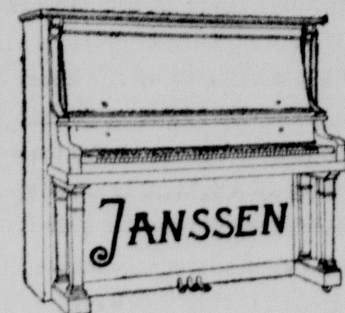

Ambassador Herrick, who visited the spots where bombs exploded, has asked for an official police report.

To the bomb's dropped or flames of German colors, pennants six feet long, were attached. Each bore the inscription: "Parisians, attention. A German aeroplane salutes you."

(Signed) Von Decker.

The bombs were three feet long and shaped like a cooking pot. A hail of bullets swept the houses near where

CONDITIONS IMPROVING.

Henry Clews, the New York financier, in his weekly letter, issued Saturday, says:

In spite of the war derangement and consequent dangers, the tendency of financial and commercial affairs inclines toward improvement. Each week shows some progress in the efforts for business resumption.

Of course it is folly to ignore the fact that the business situation is still enduring extraordinary strain; and the future continues to demand great prudence and self-restraint. Any violent outbreak of speculation, either for the rise or fall, would probably invite unfavorable consequences. Even in the United States liquidation is still incomplete, as shown by the declining tendency of high grade bonds, steel products and many other commodities. It must be universally recognized that there has been a serious impairment of the world's buying power, not only in Europe, where the rage of war is devastating property and life beyond imagination, but in the United States where the consequent breakdown of credit and the derangement of our foreign trade has placed severe restrictions upon regular trade and imposed an almost complete embargo upon all forms of new enterprise. At the same time the present blockade of financial and industrial activity cannot last. Much depends upon the course of the war. The more promptly that horrible struggle ends, the more prompt will be the general recovery. But no substantial peace plans are in sight. Apparently nothing but exhaustion will bring the contest to an end, and as that means a collapse or some of the most powerful and progressive countries which the world has ever seen, such a catastrophe will exercise a depressing influence for many months, if not years to come. On the other hand, it is quite possible to exaggerate the harmful effects of this war, especially in the present distressed mental atmosphere of the entire world. The loss of life, the destruction of property and the wasteful expenditures of war are only too well understood. Nevertheless, the costs of armed peace have been to terrifically high during the past decade that one of the certain effects of the war will be to greatly reduce the annual bills for militarism which have been estimated at about $1,600,000,000 a year for the five great nations now at war. If these expenses could be reduced one-half, it would greatly facilitate the payment of the war debt which posterity will have to meet, and also permit an earlier resumption of enterprise through the lessened waste of capital and savings.

THE SHORT BALLOT.

The short ballot movement is national and it is definitely recognized as genuinely progressive. Too many candidates, it is understood, means too little intelligent voting and too little popular government, says the editor of the Freeport Journal.

It is apparent that before long the earnest friends of referendum and initiative will be compelled to start a parallel movement for the drastic shortening of the so-called little ballot. Those who have objected to the overworking of the referendum have been dubbed reactionaries, but reformers are beginning to realize that too much referendum is as bad as too many candidates and too many elective offices.

California will vote on forty-eight proposed amendments and initiative measures. The advocates for such an important amendment as that for local autonomy in taxation fear that their cause may suffer as the result of the number and variety of other amendments.

Oregon will vote for about forty proposals. Several changes of fundamental importance are proposed—for instance, the abolition of the state senate.

Experience has shown that the voter, when in doubt, turns proposal down wholesale on general principles. Besides, each group calls for funds, literature and favors. In the resulting confusion and conflict many meritorious measures fail to arouse interest or attention. Who wants to vote on forty proposals at one time? Who has the time and patience to study the pros and cons of so many reforms? The short referendum ballot is as necessary to good government and popular control as the short personal ballot. The sincere friends of the referendum as an institution will be ere long the hardest workers for the reasonably little "little ballot."

DEMOCRATIC UNPREPAREDNESS.

Uncle Sam would not now be worrying about the unusual burdens imposed upon him by an almost world-wide war in which he fortunately has no fighting part—he would, rather, be prepared to reap great business advantages from his splendid neutrality, were it not that eighteen months of democratic financing have so hampered and weakened his domestic economic situation that he must tax himself severely simply to retain his business independence, when he might otherwise gather large profits from abroad, because his was the only nation that actually was secure in an unshakable business independence already gained. George Washington's advice to prepare for war in time of peace applies to business as well as military defense. And George Washington was the leader of the founders of the great republican party.

Hunting

By WALT MASON

I bought a fine, new-fangled gun, and said, "I'll shoot about a ton, of rabbits, owls and jays; with cartridges and kindred goods, I'll roam the prairies and the woods, and thus spend pleasant days. It's long since I have tasted game; domestic meats are all the same, they're tasteless, stale and flat; so I shall wander far and near, and shoot a groundhog or a deer, a chipmunk or a cat." So off I strode, and I could feel within my breast the Nimrod's zeal, I had no catfist fear; but everywhere I went I found, on posts, or sticking in the ground, this sign, "No Hunting Here." I walked about a thousand miles, and saw, on fences, trees and stiles, the same dog-eared sign; and farmers, when they saw me come, would say, "Keep off my land, by gum, or you will pay a fine." Ah, it would be pleasant to hunt, and do the joyful Nimrod's stunt, far from the maddening crowd, but for that sign, which ruins bliss, and is about as bad as this: "No Trespassing Allowed!" Is there no place where one can take his nice new gun and shoot a snake, a tree toad or a fly, and not behold those signs which say, "These grounds are private—keep away!" I pause for a reply.

THE BANKS.

Governor Dawe, in his paper, the Federalist, presents a statement by George E. Roberts director of the mint, on the present banking law. Mr. Roberts says:

"The federal reserve banks are primarily bankers' banks, and their business will be chiefly with their member banks, carrying their final reserves and rediscounting paper for them. They are, however, authorized to do some business outside of the member banks, to-wit: To deal in foreign exchange, in government, state and municipal bonds, and to buy domestic paper on the market. These privileges are to enable them to have some earning power independent of their member banks, and also to afford the means of influencing the importation and exportation of gold."

"They will receive no deposits except from their member banks and the United States government. Presumably, after the system is fully established, government funds will be kept for the most part with them."

"These banks will have the right to issue notes to member banks. In payment of deposits or in rediscounting commercial paper. These notes will be obligations of the United States, varying in form from the present United States note, but the same in substance, and in issuing them the reserve bank will deposit as security for the same, with the agent of the federal reserve board, an amount of approved commercial paper equal to the amount of notes it receives. In other words the new currency is issued by the government to the reserve banks, and will ordinarily pass to the local banks, as they may have demands for it from the public."

"There has been a very old controversy in this country over the question whether the currency should be issued by the banks or the government. On the one side it has been contended that the issue of anything that was to serve as money was, like the act of coinage, an attribute to sovereignty, and of such vast importance that it should not be confined to private institutions doing business for profit, and that all money should be issued by the government direct to the people."

"The banking business and the business of the country is ordinarily carried on by means of bank credit, and when lawful currency is wanted it is to supplement or support these credit operations. The demand for money is not directed to the government and will not be so directed unless the government undertakes all of the functions of banking. The demand for currency falls upon the banks, and must be satisfied through the banks. So, while it is admitted that the government should supervise and regulate currency issues, the only practicable method of issue is through the banks. The new act recognizes this. Currency will be issued only as the reserve banks make application for it. The reserve banks are obliged to furnish security for its redemption and actually to redeem it on presentation. This elastic supply of currency will enable the reserve banks to meet the requirements of their member banks, provided the latter have acceptable paper to offer as security."

A SAMPLE ITEM.

One of the items in the "pork barrel" grab which the democratic machine is attempting to force through congress is an appropriation of $1,300,000 to pay for the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, says the Illinois State Journal.

It is the opening wedge to an expenditure of some $20,000,000, of which $8,000,000 must be paid out before the canal will become of any practical value. In its existing condition the ditch isn't worth a dime.

The canal was built between 1824 and 1870. The United States government contributed $450,000 to the private company which built it, for which it still holds stock in the concern. The stock, by the way, is entirely worthless. It has paid no dividends since 1877, and there is a bill of $150,000 owing the government by the canal company since that date.

The states of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware also contributed cash to this company, to the tune of $175,000; or a total from all sources of $625,000, approximately one-third of the entire capitalization.

The canal is thirteen miles long. The company is bonded for $2,600,000 on which four per cent interest has been paid, giving a nominal value to the bond issue of $1,300,000—fifty cents on the dollar. Thus it is proposed that Uncle Sam now take this ditch over at this figure for the privilege of spending $6,700,000 to make it navigable at twelve feet depth.

It is urged by those who favor this proposition in congress and out that his twelve-foot channel should be constructed in order to enable coastwise vessels to avoid the storms on the Atlantic between Cape Charles and Cape Henlopen. During the last five years vessels with cargoes totaling 12,000 tons were lost in storms between these points. At this rate in a hundred years 60,000 tons of freight might possibly be saved from loss. If the government spent only $8,000,000 on this project, it would cost at least $120 a ton for every ton of freight saved during the next century.

MARTIAL AMENITIES.

The courtesy of war, which induced Mr. Winston Churchill to send a message to Admiral von Tirpitz regarding his son, had a striking and picturesque illustration in the Russo-Japanese campaign, when the Japanese cheered a Siberian regiment which, in spite of a terrible fire, was retreating in perfect order. Again, the French and English were such good friends when in close touch during the Peninsular war, that the outposts used to share rations and warn each other of their respective armies' approach.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE NEW TAILORED SUITS ARE STUDIES IN SIMPLICITY

To be really smart, your tailored suit this year must be exquisitely simple.

Few trimmings are used because the materials themselves are trimming enough, and because such little trimming is used, is all the more reason why you should have the right bit of color, the right button for your suit.

Bischof tailored suits are marvels of style, and are ever so pretty because they are ever so simple.

Every garment is fitted on live models—this is why you can be so easily fitted in a Bischof coat or suit.

Don't put off seeing them a day longer. There is sure to be one garment among them, that was made just for you.

CURRENT COMMENT

Cleveland Plaindealer: Roger Sullivan as democratic candidate for United States senator from Illinois will be a serious load for the party of Wilson to carry in the fall campaign. It may win in spite of the burden. At the outset, however, it has blundered. So, far, the result of the entry will disappoint progressive Democrats the country over, for Sullivan should no more have been nominated than was Foraker nominated in Ohio. His defeat at the polls is certain to be urged on much the same grounds that Penrose's defeat in Pennsylvania is urged.

Galesburg Mail: The time to prepare for an increase of production next year is now. Much of it will have to do with fall plowing. Other phases of the larger crop will be the care with which seed is selected and saved. There should not be an acre of American land that is not made to produce something of value next year. Not an acre of ground should be wasted.

Canton Register: It is the same in northern Illinois as in all other sections of the state—the primary election returns show that there is slight inclination to maintain and perpetuate three parties in place of rule by majority.

Bloomington Pantagraph: We must not neglect the rivers and harbors but it looks inconsistent to bestow large sums in that direction and neglect a great transcontinental improvement which concerns so directly the vast interior population of the country.

PROGRESSIVE PAPER QUILTS.

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 26.—The Progressive Herald, a weekly newspaper, started a few weeks ago by the Progressives in Henry county has suspended publication. Lack of patronage and failure of substantial support from the Progressives are assigned as the reasons for suspension.

BIG DEMOCRATIC SLUMP.

The primaries in King county, Washington, in which Seattle is located, last week showed a Republican gain of over 4,000 votes over 1912, with a democratic loss of nearly 15,000, and a Progressive loss of over 19,000. King county comprises about one-third of the population of Washington.

The comparative figures follow:

Presidential Primary Election
Republican	15,599	19,173
Democratic	20,088	5,705
Progressive	26,887	7,842

ILLINOIS NEWS NOTES

SWEETHEARTS UNITED AFTER MANY YEARS.

Freeport, Sept. 26.—The wedding today of Mrs. Mary Morefield of this city and John Kellahar of North Platte, Neb., was the culmination of a very pretty romance. Many years ago Mrs. Morefield, then Mary Burns was Kellahar's sweetheart. They quarreled, and their paths thereafter were in different directions. Both married and both in time lost their helpmates. Recently Kellahar learned his former sweetheart had become a widow two years ago. He wrote to her telling her that he had been a widower for seven years and suggested a renewal of their courtship. The engagement followed and the date for the wedding fixed, all without prospective bride or groom having seen each other for thirty-nine years. Saturday evening Mr. Kellahar came to Freeport and there was a glad meeting of the old sweethearts. The couple will live in Nebraska where Mr. Kellahar is the owner of a big ranch.

A BREAK BET ON THE NATIONAL LEAGUE BALL.

Freeport, Sept. 26.—Unless Boston wins the National league pennant Edward Kronberg will have to go with one-half of his head shaved for a month. If New York does not win the "rag" William Snyder will have to suffer the same sort of humiliation. Such a bet, with $25 to bind it, was made in the Brunswick pool hall last evening, between these two baseball "bugs." It was made as the result of a hot argument as to which of the teams was the better. Kronberg insists that Boston is sure to cop the pennant, while Snyder, although the Giants are five games behind, hold that New York will yet step out in front of the Braves. The bet was agreed upon just before the evening's scores came in, and when Snyder saw that his team had dropped one more game he got a trifle nervous. But he will suffer any consequences rather than lose the $25. No matter which one loses, he will make a pretty sight.

"NO AND NEVER" SHE WROTE ON BLANK.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 26.—"No and never," was the answer a fair co-ed of the University of Illinois as an answer to a question on the registration blank which read: "Are you married?" Just whether the young woman was a man hater or a suffragette, she refused to state.

A budding young bachelor had the following comment to make of the same query: "Thank heaven, no. I have not even obtained her father's consent."

JEALOUS OF BOARDER.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 26.—After shooting and killing his wife, slightly wounding a daughter, Mark Dare, last night laid down beside his wife's body with her arm as a cushion and attempted to kill himself. The bullet glanced from his temple and he probably will recover.

After his arrest he expressed satisfaction upon having slain his wife and regret that he had failed to end his own life. Jealousy over a boarder is believed to have prompted the deed.

PRICE OF COAL TO INCREASE.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 26.—Coal is due for a one cent increase in Galesburg October 1st, according to local coal dealers.

"Fulton county coal will increase to 17 cents and Franklin county to 14 cents," remarked one dealer.

Hard coal so far is cheaper than it was last year at this time. According to the statements of one of the dealers, hard coal was hardly obtainable at $12 a ton this time last year while this year the price has not gone beyond $10.

It is stated by another dealer that the European war may effect the prices of coal here in view of the fact that all eastern coal is being kept on ship board. "It is impossible for us to get any smokeless coal here," he said, "and this is bound to tighten up the prices."

OACVINA HURT IN AUTO SPILL.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 26.—Homer Oacvina, pitcher on the Rockford W. L. league team, received a broken leg in an automobile accident Tuesday night on the Juda highway between Broadhead and Monroe. Otto Zwiygard, a Broadhead cheese buyer, who was with Oacvina, escaped with a few bruises.

The men were driving a Ford machine to Broadhead from Monroe. The car ran off the grade of the macadam road at the farm of W. A. Win dorf, a mile west of Juda, landing in some willows about eight rods away.

The fracture in Oacvina's limb is about six inches above the knee. He was taken to his home in Broadhead in another machine. The Ford was badly damaged.

SHERMAN REPLIES TO ROOSEVELT

never went outside to pull it down. I am still a Republican. I submit to the people of Illinois my record in the efforts for improvement.

Illinoisans Supported Roosevelt.
"Mr. Roosevelt nominated Taft in 1908. He used the rules then in force to control the convention. In 1912 he became dissatisfied with President Taft. He was a candidate against him. He declined in 1908 to amend the rules he complained of in 1912. He had the power to do so. He wanted their benefit in 1908. In 1912 he vociferously objected to Taft's receiving the benefit of the same rules. Roosevelt's name was submitted to that convention. If he had been nominated under the old rules or any rules, the Republican party would have been a virtuous body.

"A Republican governor, Deneen, called a special session of the legislature to enact a presidential preference act. Under that law Roosevelt was enabled to come before the Republican voters of this state. He received a most sincere and loyal support. It might properly be called the turning point of his candidacy.

"Our state convention met April 19, 1912. Roosevelt's managers on the ground greatly desired strong resolutions and proper delegates at large to the national convention. I was somewhat servicable to him on both subjects. His campaign manager, now Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana wired me from Washington, April 20, 1912, thanking me 'most heartily for the very valuable aid rendered by you at Springfield in securing the adoption of suitable resolutions by the Illinois state convention and the selection of the delegates at large. I assure you that this is a service which will not be forgotten.'

Sherman's Course in Chicago.

"I was a delegate in the Republican national convention. I kept the faith with the people who sent me. On all parliamentary questions I voted steadily for Roosevelt. I supported him to the final roll call. Not a Roosevelt Republican of 1912 or now believes I faltered a moment in obeying the will of the voters expressed at the April, 1912, primaries. "Roosevelt issued to me a certificate of fitness and character as far back as 1907. A commission I have before me acknowledges this. In it over his signature, he recites that he reposes 'special trust and confidence in the wisdom, uprightness and learning of Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois,' in witness of which he caused the commission to be issued and the seal of the Department of Justice to be affixed. This commission was countersigned by his attorney general, Charles J. Bonaparte.

"It so happened in 1907 that I was busily occupied in promoting some of the measures in the Illinois legislature which Mr. Roosevelt now favors as national laws. This, with other reasons, induced me to decline the proffered honor and accordingly resigned as a member of the Spanish War Claims commission with a $5,000 annual salary.

Colonel a "Man of Moods."

"It requires but a brief inspection of the foregoing to understand that the colonel is a man of many moods, volatile in his beliefs and possibly forgetful of what he does as well as of what others do. He certainly needs accurate information on public affairs in this state.

"Those in control of the Republican party for some time are not those whom Mr. Roosevelt criticizes. The ones he now criticizes were his associates before the element with which I am identified in the Republican party obtained control. Mr. Roosevelt now brands me with the name of his former friends. He fights his former friends by attacking the Republican party as now controlled and incidentally attacking me.

"To anyone with a sense of humor this would provoke a smile. The colonel, however, is not a humorous person, even if the jest involves his own ludicrous conduct. The colonel admits he made a mistake in nominating Taft. Does he admit he made a mistake in not amending the national convention rules in 1908? Does he admit the rules were wrong in 1912? If they were, why did he use them for his purposes in 1908?

"Did a Republican governor do right in giving the colonel a chance in Illinois in 1912? Different people will answer the question in different ways, after meditating over the colonel's conduct. Does the colonel think that Ex-Senator Dixon had anything to thank we Republicans in Illinois for?

Roosevelt Fickle and Inconsistent.

"Does the colonel or any of his friends know of anything since May 17, 1907, the date he commissioned me, that I have done to forfeit the confidence of the people of this state? The difficulty is that the colonel does not remain of one mind long at a time. He is fickle in his affections and equally inconstant in his devotion to his alleged principles.

"The Republican party loyally supported him for nearly two full terms. It accepted his advice in 1908 and nominated Taft. Governor Deneen convened a special session of the legislature at considerable expense to promote Roosevelt's candidacy. We gave him strong resolutions in our 1912 state convention and eight stalwart delegates-at-large. In promoting Mr. Robins' candidacy he now finds that we are all unworthy of public confidence and vicious in our political affiliations. We are still Republicans. That is our only sin. If he had been nominated when he demanded it in 1912, he too would be a Republican.

"But now he comes speaking of social justice. My public services have nearly all been rendered to this state. I have had only a short term with inconspicuous service in the United States senate. Length of service counts there and that I have not had, I submit, however, my public record within state lines as evidence of my fitness in national legislation. I challenge Mr. Roosevelt to examine my legislative conduct. He cannot find a measure affecting social justice on which he can truthfully criticize me. I have labored steadily, practically and sanely toward that desired end.

Sherman and Labor Legislation.

"No attack was ever made on me by labor as hostile to their interests until a few weeks ago. That came from an inspired source. During 12 years of incessant service in the Illinois legislature I had to deal with a multitude of labor bills. Not a criticism of that period has ever been made. On the contrary the men who then represented union labor have approved my course and been my friends and are today. Eight years out of the twelve I was speaker of the house or president of the senate. Legislation rested heavily on my shoulders. I acted in broad daylight. The public knew my responsibility, yet it is reserved for Mr. Roosevelt to discover that I am unworthy of the support of the laboring man. Their representatives who came into contact with me year after year at the state capitol have testified to my fair treatment of them. I did not vote to exempt labor unions, May 7, 1913, in the United States senate, from prosecutions under the anti-trust act. I announced, however, at that time what I thought. I said I would favor amending the anti-trust law so as to permit combinations of workmen for the purpose of increasing wages, bettering hours or improving safety, sanitation or any other conditions of labor without interference with the lawful right of another. Out of this came Mr. Gompers' criticism. I believe every fair-minded workman in the country will approve my course.

Denounces Charge False.

"Mr. Roosevelt charges that a Sullivan Lorimer bi-partisan combination of former years has continued and at Springfield last year was a Sherman-Sullivan combine. The charge is utterly false. For more than fifteen years Mr. Lorimer and I were not in accord in methods of party management. We both remained Republicans. Mr. Lorimer defeated me in several party struggles. Mr. Roosevelt's Illinois friends were then with Mr. Lorimer and against me. This situation continued for some years and is so well known in this state as to require no further comment.

"In January, 1913, the Illinois legislature was deadlocked on the election of speaker of the house. It was impossible to transact business. No political party had a majority. A candidate was at last openly agreed upon who was a friend of Governor Dunne as well as other prominent Democrats in the state. He was not a Sullivan man any more than he was a Governor Dunne man. He was elected speaker by Republican and Democratic votes. There were twenty-five Progressive house members. A sufficient number of Progressives refused to join with either of the other political parties to elect a speaker. A union of Democrats and Republicans was the only way the public duties of the legislature could be discharged. It was not a Sullivan-Sherman combine. It was a union of members of the legislature to perform their lawful duties. Not a vicious act of legislation and not a breath of scandal has ever been directed at that legislature. No Sullivan man was elected senator. James Hamilton Lewis, who was elected senator, is an anti-Sullivan man. I was elected senator by the aid of the Lewis-Dunne Democrats, not by the Sullivan members of the legislature.

Story of Frank Funk's Defeat.

"The deadlock on the election of United States senator continued until March, 1913. Illinois had two empty seats in the United States senate. On joint ballot there were 27 Progressive members of the legislature. They held a conference or caucus and 23 out of the 27 agreed to support Frank H. Funk and myself for senators for the two-year and six-year terms respectively.

"If I were the servile tool of a Sullivan combine, why did 23 Progressive members of the legislature agree to support me?

"No one has ever questioned the integrity of Frank H. Funk, who joined with me for many weeks to break the deadlock by his election and mine through a union of Progressive and Republican votes.

"Does Mr. Roosevelt stamp this attempted election as iniquitous?

"It required every one of the 27 Progressives and the 75 Republicans to elect on joint ballot. If one vote was deflected it continued the deadlock. Four votes made an election impossible unless by Democratic help I tried sincerely to elect Mr. Funk for the two year term. He as sincerely tried to elect me with the help of his supporters for the six-year term. We both failed.

Combination Made With Lewis.

"Mr. Funk and his friends must testify to the good faith which characterized both sides. After this failure it became evident that the deadlock was permanent so far as the Republicans and Progressives were jointly concerned. Mr. Funk and his friend and the Republican had done all in their power to end it. The Republicans and certain Democrats then united and elected Senator Lewis for the long term and myself for the short term of less than two years. Mr. Roosevelt seeks to convey the impression that the Republicans united with the Sullivan Democrats to accomplish his election. On the contrary the Sullivan Democrats opposed it. It was a combination with the Governor Dunne - Senator Lewis Democrats. The colonel indulges in a fine frenzy on the Sullivan Democracy after seeking to create this belief. The only answer to him is that it isn't true, when he says that Republicans combined with the Sullivan Democrats. No well informed man in the state believes what Colonel Roosevelt seeks to have believed.

"I am criticized because of gas legislation in which I participated. I voted for the gas consolidation act. I believe in such a consolidation. Gas is a monopoly in every large city. I have accepted that view as a necessary conclusion and have also decided that regulation is the necessary companion of such monopoly. I therefore favored vesting in the city council of Chicago the power to fix the price of gas. My two opinions are consistent and I believe are in keeping with the modern view of the question. I have been through six elections since this legislative criticism was first started. Three of these have been statewide elections or primaries under the regulation of the law. Three of them have been in the legislative districts where I formerly lived. I have not met with a defeat at the hands of the people of this state in the sixteen years in which these matters have frequently been discussed. Spending time now in attacking me makes one assume the role of a Rip Van Winkle.

Concerning Mr. Raymond Robins.

"Colonel Roosevelt comes a long journey to advise Illinois voters to elect Raymond Robins. Who is Raymond Robins? What does he believe? What has he done? Why should he be elected United States senator?

"During the years of which complaint is made about me was Mr. Robins in the legislature, in congress, or in public office? At the time some of the most remedial legislation for social justice in congress or our state legislation was enacted, I was writing statutes instead of my biography. He is principally remembered during this period as a single taxer. He appears as a member of the commission of the Joseph Fels Fund. This is a fund devoted to the propagation of the single tax. The pamphlet describing the purpose of this commission states 'its object was and is to help bring about the practical operation of the single tax. The commission held that this object can be more quickly attained in places where the movement is sufficiently advanced to make the single tax a political issue.'

"Mr. Robins is, therefore, fairly embarked on this enterprise. His name appears on the commissions' letterheads and its literature. It might be well to briefly state what the single tax is. Henry George answers the inquiry. He says: 'We did not abolish slavery when we ratified the fourteenth amendment. To abolish slavery we must abolish private property in land.' (Progress and Poverty p. 284.) 'I do not propose either to purchase or to confiscate private property in land; it is only necessary to confiscate rent. What I therefore propose is to appropriate rent by taxation. For rent being taken by the state in taxes, land, no matter in whose name it stood or in what parcels it was held would be really common property and every member of the community would participate in the advantages of its ownership. Now, inasmuch, as the taxation of rent, or land values must necessarily be increased, just as we abolish other taxes, we may put the proposition into practical form by proposing to abolish all taxation save that upon land value.' (Progress and Poverty p. 292-293.)

What Single Tax Would Mean.

"Believers in the single tax therefore favor the removal of taxes from all other property and placing it upon land alone. The avowed purpose of this is to confiscate the value of title of the private owner who now holds it. This would revert the use or title in the government. Private ownership of land would therefore cease. All taxes local, state or national would therefore be derived from rents. The rents in substance become taxes paid to the government by the tenant. Land does not include under the single tax idea, buildings or other improvements. It is the simple ground tax only.

"The necessary result of the single tax is to destroy the ownership of every farm in Illinois and elsewhere throughout the country. You who have paid value for your fields, have cultivated it with care, rotated crops, fertilized, drained and safeguarded its usefulness for your family's comfort, your own and your children, are to lose it all. You are not even to be paid its value at the end of a condemnation suit although it is to be taken by the government or the state for the common or public use. You are to be punished by the confiscation of your land simply because you have been industrious enough in winter's snow and under summer's sun to pay for it and own it. Your children are to be left homeless and homeless except as the state may permit them to be tenants. What paternal sovereign in the person of some officer will allot their pittance of land to them you know not.

"In the struggle in the Henry George air castle, who will obtain the more desirable tracts. No one can now answer. If perchance your acres are good to look upon a government agent may dispossess you and give them to a more favored person. The government becomes the sole authority on leases. Some tracts of land are more desirable to the farmer than others. Some corner lots in cities are first sought after. Who will decide after the kingdom of Henry George has been set up by Mr. Robins?

Robins Would Dispossess Farmers.

"Do you wish your children and your children's children cut off from their inheritance and your possessions held as common property? Raymond Robins believes in the single tax. He is a disciple of Henry George. He has devoted some of his energy in years past to promulgating this theory. In practice it destroys the farmer's use and title to his land. It confiscates city property. Home, steads, business property, vacant lots, fertile field, pasture land, valley and plain with its cattle on a thousand hills, with its waving grain, are all to pass under the confiscating hand of the single tax and be no more yours or mine.

"Yet Mr. Robins is a candidate whom Mr. Roosevelt advises the voters of Illinois to elect to the United States senate. As United States senator he will promote the single tax in that body. He will endeavor, if sincere, to impose upon government state or nation, his views and embody it in law constitutional and statutory.

"Roosevelt now seeks to commit and deliver every Progressive voter in Illinois to Mr. Robins and thereby elect him senator, to the end that the land now held by private owners shall be taken from them and converted into common property. It is time for some independent thinking rather than to heed Roosevelt's appeal for Robins.

"This is the New Nationalism. It is taking from those who have and giving to those who have not. It is a leveling of possessions. It is an ill please Debs. It would make Carl Marx rejoice exceedingly if he were alive. It would make every dreamer, every zealot inhabiting an air castle mad with envy. It would make even a French revolution reflect how useless it was to behead people, when you can get everything away from the victim peaceably by taxing him to death. It is for this Roosevelt has traveled a thousand miles to have the Progressives do.

Sherman Condemns the Single Tax. "I condemn the entire theory of the single tax as an economic vagary. A visionary theoretical experiment, a menace dangerous to entice the unwary, to arouse those who mal desire to get another's property without paying for it. To such base uses has the New Nationalism already come. Is this the goal of social justice defined by Roosevelt and Robins? If we turn back from this we are Bourbons and reactionaries.

"Neither the Republican or the Democratic party has fallen a victim to single tax. If there is a voter who understands it and believes in it, let him vote for Robins. The Republican party will lose none of its vote on this question. Can any Democrat afford to vote for him?

"In the face of this the Progressive politicians and some Democratic ones say that the contest is between Sullivan and Robins. It is a concerted campaign sry. There is no contest between them except for third place. A Democrat who is 51 per cent Socialist might vote for Robins. The real contest in this campaign is between the Republican and Democratic parties. The voters must therefore choose between candidates for senators nominated by those parties."

The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and when I stooped I had pain across my loins. My back often ached. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they made me well. The pains left and the action of my kidneys was regulated."

Mr. Walford is only one of many Dixon people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. FLAY PENROSE AND SULLIVAN

National Popular Government League in Statement.

BIG PARTY LEADERS MEMBERS

Headed by Senator Owen, Democrat, and Signed by Senators Clapp, Progressive, and Norris, Republican, Statement Demands Defeat of Pennsylvania and Illinois Bosses.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The National Popular Government league, composed of several senators and representatives from all political parties, is out in a statement opposing the election of Roger Sullivan and Boies Penrose. Senator Owen of Oklahoma is president. He is a Democrat who has supported the administration in most things and took the lead in the support of the administration's currency program. He is chairman of the banking and currency committee.

The vice president of the league, who signs the protest against the two nominees for senator, is Moses E. Clapp, Full Moose senator from Minnesota. Senator Geo. W. Norris of Nebraska, another signer of the protest, is a Progressive Republican, and is the author of the resolution now pending before the senate committee on privileges and elections directing an investigation into the campaign expenditures of both Penrose and Sullivan.

In addition, several members of congress have attached their names to the paper protesting against Sullivan and Penrose.

Party Leaders to Fight Nominees. In the statement put out from the league headquarters in Washington, the league announces that it "will actively oppose the elections to the United States senate of Boies Penrose, Republican machine boss in Pennsylvania, and Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic machine boss of Illinois, upon the grounds that their success is a menace to popular government, state and national."

The chief importance of the announcement lies in the fact that Republican politicians will take the stump in Pennsylvania against Penrose and Democratic politicians will go after Sullivan in Illinois. The statement of the league says: "This action has been taken in response to the requests of friends of popular government in all parties from both states after careful deliberation and after it had been overwhelmingly endorsed by the members and officers of constituent organizations of the league. It has been presented to us by dependable citizens of these states."

"That both Penrose and Sullivan secured their nominations through the influence of enormous expenditures of money by their supporters and through the sinister power of the bipartisan machines."

Investigation May Shock Nation. "That if Senator Norris' resolution is passed by the senate and investigation of these two primaries takes place, the results will shock the nation."

"Both of these men have repeatedly violated their party platforms, acted in direct opposition to the demonstrated will of the people and have no moral right to claim the allegiance of the rank and file of any political party, nor to ask the people to entrust them with responsible public positions no matter what their platform promises may be."

"We, therefore, are of the belief that the issue transcends all party lines and that it is the duty of all good citizens to disregard party prejudices and to unite in opposition to the alliance between crooked business and crooked politics, which today threatens the very foundations of government by the people."

BERLIN REPORTS TWO VICTORIES IN FRANCE

they fell and all windows were smashed. The Parisians received the visit with more curiosity than fear and the public feeling was expressed by the comment of "L'Intransigeant," which said that the bombs were P. P. C. cards left by the Germans as notice of the withdrawal of their army from France.

Paris, Sept. 28.—French and British forces were again victorious along the entire battle front in the most furious conflicts of the battle of the Aisne, in which bayonet fighting replaced the long range artillery duels, according to the official statement of the French war office issued in the afternoon.

French forces have regained the ground lost between the Argonne region and the Meuse. The statement says that perceptible advances have been made by the allies between the Oise and the Somme and to the north of the Somme and from the Aisne to Rheims.

Entrenchments Hundreds Yards Apart
In some places the opposing entrenchments are only some hundred yards apart and violent bayonet charges by the Germans have been repulsed at all points.

It is officially stated that a vigorous German offensive has been thrown back in the region of Berru and Nogent-Labessee. The Germans, it is said, occupy a front which passes by St. Michael and northwest of Pont-a-Mousson.

German Aeroplane Kills Two in Paris.
One man was killed and a girl wounded when a German aeroplane dropped a bomb into a Paris street. The air invader failed in his main purpose, which apparently was to destroy the Eiffel tower and its wireless telegraph station.

Germans Defeated Close to Belgium.
French and British troops operating north of the main battle line have defeated a German force and are now pursuing the invaders at a point, the name of which is suppressed by the censor, but which is known to be close to the Belgian border.

Fight at St. Quentin Decisive.
Battle rages in extreme violence at St. Quentin, where the Germans are striving desperately to prevent the capture of the town by an army of the allies. Capture of St. Quentin, once achieved, is expected to end the battle of the Aisne with decisive victory for the allies through compelling the surrender or immediate flight of the German right wing army, commanded by General Alexander von Klueck, which thereby would lose its line of communications to Belgium.

Japs Win Fourteen Hour Battle.

Says German Effort Fails.
Paris, Sept. 28.—The official communique issued at 11:40 p. m. says: "It is confirmed that from the night of Sept. 25 to 26 up to today, the enemy has not ceased night or day to renew his attack on the whole front with unheard of violence, his manifest object being to try to break our lines. The attack was made with such an immense number of men that it is evident that orders had been received from the highest source to seek to end the battle with a decisive victory."

"Not only has the attack failed, but in the course of the action we captured a standard and several guns and many prisoners. The standard was taken from the enemy by the Twenty-fourth regiment of Colonial Infantry. All our army commanders report that the morale of our troops, in spite of the fatigues of this uninterrupted struggle, is excellent. The officers are even forced to restrain their men from dashing on the enemy sheltered in his organized defensive positions."
